AL ILM PUBLISHING

‘al-ilm* is mentioned in more than 27 places in the Quran and al-kitab in 230 verses. These are a few of the many indications that knowledge is a central part of Islam as a way of life.

It is implied that the attainment of ‘ilm, is obligatory upon all muslims, may it be the sciences of theology, philosophy, law, ethics, politics or any other wisdom imparted to mankind from God through the blessings of his last Prophet Muhammad (P.B.U.H).

Al-Ilm Publishing aims to facilitate the tasks of those seeking knowledge by offering an easy and free of charge solution to scholars and ulemas to have their writings published in book form.

The world has become a global village, therefore the reach of our islamic scholars should also extend beyond their local communities. The intention in creating Al-Ilm Publishing is to bring Islamic books where people look for them: online and from all around the world.

*‘ ilm is often translated to knowledge in English but it has a wider connotation that the western definition of knowledge.
al-kitab is commonly translated to book.

*RDC : les opportunités

I confess that initially I did not feel reassured to work, from a distance, with people who will have the responsibility of editing my book when I had never met them before. Finally, your accompaniment has been effective and of high human quality. I really appreciated your professionalism. I can only recommend to other authors to discover the modern publishing house OmniScriptum.

Finance and Entrepreneurship

European University Publishing approached me after seeing an article published as part of an educational project on e-learning... They pay serious attention to the content. No publication blindly! The financial and copyright conditions of Éditions Universitaires Européennes are very fair. It was a real pleasure to work with them, and I will probably come back to education issues!

Tornadoes in Estonia

We should express our gratitude to the OmniScriptum Publishing Group for the very precise and flexible cooperation. The book «Tornadoes in Estonia» was published and delivered exactly on the dates planned by editors. It was our first experience to publish a book without live contacts with publishers but at the same time very encouraging to continue in modern way.
